A Guide to Killed By Death, Bloodstains and Other '77-'84 Rare Punk Compilations

¶Digging around the records and the archives here at Maximum Rocknroll, I discovered a tattered zine-type book called The Midnight Record Guide to '60s Punk Compiliations, put out by Midnight Records. It was an incredible resource, listing the songs and bands appearing on compiliations of long forgotten sixties punk songs. Inspiration struck. With the flood of similiar comps coming out showcasing the best and worst of late '70s and early '80s obscure and rare punk rock, it's only natural that a guide such as the one Midnight Records put out over ten years ago appear again, for the new crop of records. After much digging, many, many hours in front of a computer, here is the end product.

¶Much of the information in here came from the records themselves. But because they are notoriously incorrect, and most lacking information about the bands, I used other sources. One of the most helpful sources were the sale lists and catalogs of the followling collectors: Mike Bastarache, Ingo Eitelbach, Detour Records, Incognito Records, P Tuotanto, Alternative Action, Mike Teo, Stefan Burke, Petri Kantola, David Pamies...

¶I also dug around on the internet a little bit and found two web sites by Henry Weld and Paul Routenburg to be most helpful in getting iformation regarding Texas bands and those from Australia, as well as Paul's page, Killed By Hype, which is somewhat like a web version of this, sans the band list.

¶Even the most complete discographies of punk are horribly incomplete when it comes to a lot of these records, and ironically enough (or not), the best source for digging up some of the dreg was put out in 1982. The International Discography of the New Wave, Vol 2 is an invaluable reference. It's also out of print and as hard to find as many of these records.

¶In both printed and online form, I used the FLEX! Discography of American Punk and Hardcore, put together by Burkhard Järisch. It isn't as complete in regards to the real obscure stuff, but is a wealth of information nonetheless. Not as hard to find, and much more recent are the books Pogographie 4, which is a very complete discography of German punk and hardcore from 1977-1989, and Smash the State, a similiar idea, only focusing on Canada. Ralf Kirstan put together Pogographie. Frank Manley compiled the information in Smash the State, which also includes a lot of great reproductions of record covers. The Maximum Rocknroll record library proved to be one of the best resources I had available, and one of the most fun. Not only did I fill in a lot of holes, but I got to listen to a lot of the records–some of the best music ever made.

¶Thanks to Behjan Mirhadi for an extra keen eye to detail. Additionl thanks for help goes to: Jacqueline Prichard, Ryan Richardson, Bruce Roehrs, Jeroen Vedder, Kris Verreth and to MRR as a whole.

¶Word has it that Mike Bastarache, with the help of Frank Manley (of Smash the State) fame, is doing a project very similiar to this one. The biggest difference in the two projects is, very bluntly, that their's will make this obsolete. From talking with Mike Bastarache, it sounds as if their project will include more comps (including CD-only compilations–which I've omitted) and more information about the bands, the songs, the records the bands released, and about the compiliations themselves. Until that does come out though, you have this. Even if only three people find this useful in anyway, I'll be happy with the end result. It took a lot of time to compile, a lot of time to dig up the information about these bands, many of whom have long been forgotten.

¶If you have additional information about any of the bands or records listed in here, about bands and records which I've omitted, or if you notice errors of any kind, please let me know. I'd like to keep this updated, maybe make it avaliable on the internet. Maybe if the need is there, I'll do a more detailed second edition.

¶As is the nature of these things, this discography is outdated already, before it even goes to print. Regardless, this will hopefully prove to be a useful tool in helping you track down some of the best (and worst) music you'll ever hear.

¶This zine is available by mailorder from me (NOT MAXIMUM ROCKNROLL!!!) at the address below for $3(US)/$5(world). Make checks or money orders (cash works also) to: MARK MURRMANN.

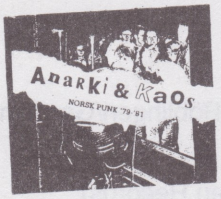
Anarki & Kaos [Voice of Wonder; VOW 029C] (NOR; 1992)
One of many comps to focus on the punk of Norway, suprisingly though there has been little overlap with this comp and those which have followed. This record hones in on the years between 1979 and 1981, and is, I believe a legitimate release. Black vinyl with black and silver lables. Also available on CD.



Side One
Pink Dirt-Hey Sir
Oslo Børs-Råtne Guder
